Updated 2023

Vision: Preparing Students for Life

Hillsborough County Public Schools (HCPS) promotes student achievement by supporting leaders to serve as catalysts for shaping school improvements, accelerating teacher effectiveness, and creating lasting foundations for student learning.

The instructional and district leader evaluation system reflects current educational and professional leadership standards and proven practices focused on student success. This system is based on the belief that evaluations are:

- Part of a comprehensive system of support and professional development,
- Relevant to improvement of leaders,
- Dynamic work,
- Based on accurate, valid, and reliable information gather through multiple measures, and
- Useful for informing leaders' learning and progress.

We will support instructional leaders' professional growth in two main ways:

- 1) Job-embedded professional development: By observing practice, leaders and their evaluators can identify areas of strength and areas for continued growth. This feedback may also be used to assist leaders with professional development for their differentiated needs. Additionally, evaluation data assists to identify districtwide and site-based gaps and needs to drive school and divisional improvement planning.
- 2) Evaluation: The evaluation of performance is based on multiple measures of effectiveness, including evaluator assessment of performance and student achievement data (site-based instructional leaders).

PURPOSE OF THE EVALUATION HANDBOOK

The purpose of this handbook is to outline Hillsborough County Public School’s instructional and district leader evaluation process. This handbook serves as a reference tool to assist leaders and stakeholders in understanding the district’s processes for collecting, documenting, and evaluating practice and overall leader performance.

EVALUATION COMPONENTS—Instructional Leader

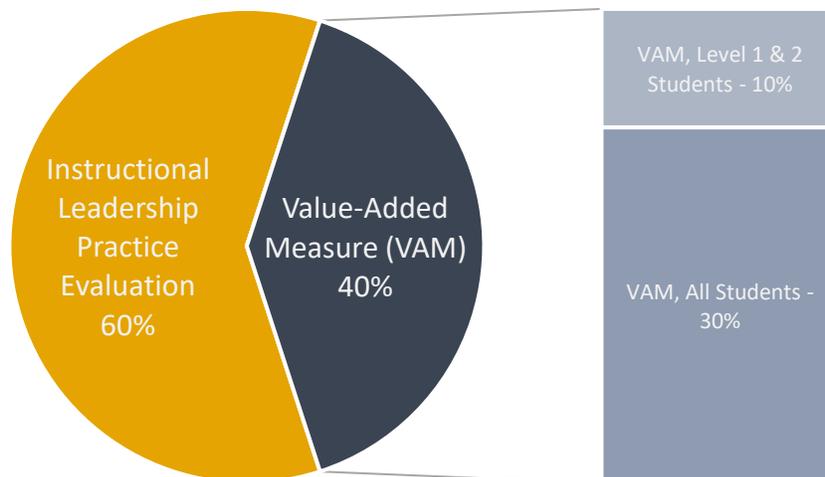

For site-based instructional leaders, the evaluation consists of two measures used to determine an instructional leader’s overall effectiveness. Per Florida Statute 1012.34(3)(a), at least one-third of an instructional leader’s evaluation must be based on student data, and at least one-third must be based upon instructional leadership practice. The components of the instructional leader evaluation are listed below and explained in greater detail later in the handbook.

Instructional Leadership Practice Evaluation: 60% of the Overall Evaluation Score****

Using the Instructional Leader Evaluation Instrument (rubric), leaders are evaluated based on information gathered through ongoing observations of practice and other supporting elements and evidence of performance that demonstrate professional practice and responsibilities.

Student Achievement (Value-Added Measure): 40% of the Overall Evaluation Score****

Hillsborough County Public Schools uses a customized value-added measure (VAM) model to assess the impact of educators and instructional leaders upon their students’ achievement. Refer to page 9 for additional information on the Value-Added Measure model.

EVALUATION COMPONENTS—District Leader

For district leaders, the evaluation consists of a single measure used to determine an instructional leader’s overall effectiveness:

District Leadership Practice Evaluation: 100% of the Overall Evaluation Score****

Using the District Leader Evaluation Instrument (rubric), leaders are evaluated based on information gathered through ongoing observations of practice and other supporting elements and evidence of performance that demonstrate professional practice and responsibilities.

EVALUATION INSTRUMENT—Instructional Leader

The Instructional Leader Evaluation Instrument encompasses the foundational ideas by which HCPS defines effective instructional leadership practice. The rubric offers descriptions of practices that, based on research and empirical evidence, have been shown to promote effective instruction and student learning. With eight components of practice, this framework serves as the guide for rating instructional leader practice. To view the complete rubric, refer to Appendix A on page 14.

1. Professional and Ethical Norms	2. Vision and Mission	3. Operations and School Management	4. Student Learning and Continuous School Improvement
5. Learning Environment	6. Professional Capacity and Learning	7. Building Leadership Expertise	8. Meaningful Family and Community Engagement

EVALUATION INSTRUMENT—District Leader

The District Leader Evaluation Instrument encompasses the foundational ideas by which HCPS defines effective district leadership practice in public education. The rubric offers descriptions of practices that, based on research and empirical evidence, have been shown to promote effective practice and ultimately student learning. With eight components of practice, this framework serves as the guide for rating district leader practice. To view the complete rubric, refer to the Appendix B on page 19.

1. Professional and Ethical Norms	2. Vision and Mission	3. Operations and Management	4. Student Learning and Continuous Improvement
5. Environment	6. Professional Capacity and Learning	7. Building Leadership Expertise	8. Meaningful Communication and Stakeholder Engagement

OBSERVATIONS OF PRACTICE

Observations of practice are essential to the evaluation process. Evaluators conduct ongoing, non-formalized observations of an employee’s practice to gather and document evidence of effective practices.

Observations:

- Are unscheduled,
- Ongoing,
- Focus on components of the respective evaluation instrument, and
- Provide opportunities for feedback to improve and grow practice.

Observational data are used in determining final evaluation ratings, as well as to recommend and support job-embedded professional development needs.

Documentation methods of evidence collected from observation are at the discretion of the evaluator.

Employee Journal

Throughout the year, employees are encouraged to utilize the provided journal function in the LTM Employee Space to share additional insights, follow up, and reflections. If the journal is marked “Public,” evaluators will review the information during the evaluation process.

INSTRUCTIONAL/DISTRICT LEADERSHIP PRACTICE EVALUATION

Midyear Evaluation

A Midyear Evaluation is a full rating of the evaluation instrument to provide the employee with summative feedback on practice for the first semester. It is an opportunity for the employee and evaluator to have a discussion about the employee's performance and development goals. Midyear evaluations are not scored and do not carry a weight in the calculation of the final evaluation.

Two groups of employees receive Midyear Evaluations:

- Employees in their first year of employment in the current position, and
- Employees who were evaluated as less than effective the previous year.

Additionally, the evaluator may elect to complete a Midyear Evaluation for an employee who does not otherwise require one to document performance at the midyear point.

Employees have the opportunity to complete an optional midyear self-evaluation if they choose to do so.

Instructional Leadership Practice (Final) Evaluation

At the end of the school year, evaluators evaluate the performance of leaders based on information gathered through ongoing observations of practice and other supporting elements and evidence of performance that demonstrate professional practice and responsibilities. Evaluators analyze all collected evidence and any added information uploaded by the employee in the LTM Journal. Evaluators consider all interactions with employees and all evidence available that would inform final evaluation ratings.

A final evaluation is required for any employee who earns a year of creditable service (i.e., works, or is paid for, 100 days within the school year).

Employee Self-Evaluation

For each evaluation, employees are given the opportunity to complete a self-evaluation of their own practice using their respective evaluation rubric. The self-evaluation is generated automatically for employees and available in LTM Employee Space. This self-evaluation provides employees the opportunity to reflect on their practice, share evidence of that practice aligned to the rubric, and advocate for themselves in regard to their performance.

Evaluation Conference & Ratings

Evaluators and employees engage in evaluation conferences at the end of the year to discuss the evaluation ratings reflecting the instructional leader’s performance over the school year. In the evaluation conference, the evaluator will share with the employee specific ratings given on the evaluation instrument, evidence supporting those ratings, and feedback to reinforce and enhance future practice. The employee may bring to the conference documentation supporting their practice, but this is not required.

Following the conference, evaluation ratings and feedback are uploaded to the employee’s LTM Employee Space portfolio. Evaluators are required to provide written explanation for all indicators rated as “Requires Action” (RA). The employee will receive a system-generated notification email when the evaluation is viewable in LTM Employee Space. The evaluation should be posted and finalized for the employee to view electronically within 10 business days of the conference.

Once posted, the employee has the opportunity to view the appraisal in LTM Employee Space, acknowledge the evaluation, and provide a written response to the evaluation. If an employee provides a written response to the evaluation in LTM Employee Space, the response shall become a permanent attachment to his/ her personnel file.

Instructional/District Leadership Practice Evaluation Timeline

Evaluation due dates are set and published annually by the Human Resources Division.

Performance Ratings

Annual performance in each component is rated on a scale demonstrating the varying levels of practice: Requires Action, Progressing, Accomplished, and Exemplary.

Requires Action	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Leaders performing at this level do not yet appear to understand the concepts underlying the components.</li><li>• Leaders have difficulty internalizing effective practices and need ongoing assistance and support to complete daily responsibilities.</li></ul>
Progressing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Leaders performing at this level appear to understand the concepts underlying the components and attempt to implement their elements, but implementation is sporadic, intermittent or otherwise not entirely or inconsistently successful.</li></ul>
Accomplished	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Leaders performing at this level have mastered the work of their practice while still striving to improve.</li><li>• They thoroughly know their practice.</li><li>• They have a broad repertoire of strategies and activities and can move easily to Plan B if necessary.</li></ul>
Exemplary	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Leaders performing at this level are master leaders.</li><li>• Exemplary level performance is extremely high performance, resulting from a combination of an understanding of stakeholders, instruction/practice, and leadership.</li><li>• Practice at this level exceeds high expectations of Accomplished level practice.</li></ul>

Instructional/District Leadership Practice Score

Each component of the evaluation instruments is weighted evenly, and the entire Instructional Leadership Practice Evaluation has a possible 60 points.

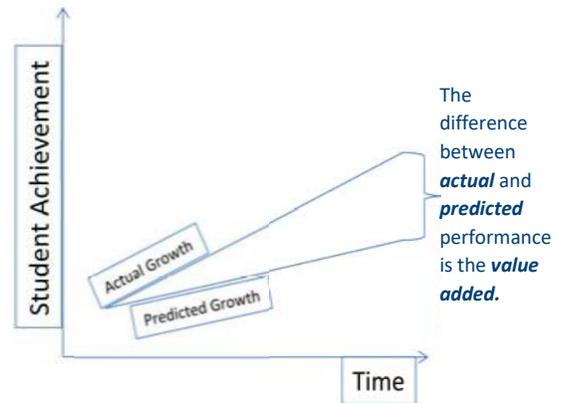

The breakdown of points is as follows:

	Requires Action	Progressing	Accomplished	Exemplary
1. Professional and Ethical Norms	0	2.5	5	7.5
2. Vision and Mission	0	2.5	5	7.5

VALUE-ADDED MEASURES (VAM)

Per Florida Statute 1012.34(3)(a)1, at least one-third of an instructional leader’s performance evaluation must be based upon data and indicators of student performance. A value-added measure is a statistical model that uses a variety of variables to estimate the expected one-year learning growth and performance of each student. The performance expectation estimate is then compared to the actual performance of the student, as measured by relevant course and content assessments. The difference between the expected performance of the student and the actual performance of the student is the value added by the educator’s instruction.

In order to isolate and measure an educator’s impact on student achievement, the model controls for variables that are outside the educator’s control, including but not limited to Exceptional Student Education (ESE) status, English language learner (ELL) status, student relative age compared to cohort, previous year’s attendance, mobility, population density of residential area, and previous mathematics and reading achievement. In doing so, the educator’s actual instructional impact on student growth can be extrapolated and calculated. Additionally, a student is only included in an educator’s value-added calculation if that student is assigned to the educator on at least two specific benchmark dates within a semester and has all required pre- and post-measures.

Instructional leaders receive VAM data for their students broken into two parts:

- All students, schoolwide (30% of the Overall Evaluation)
- Level 1 and Level 2 students, schoolwide (30% of the Overall Evaluation)

Final VAM Score

The final value-added measure score is a numerical value between 0 and 40. The final VAM score for each instructional leader is based on an average of the three (3) most recent years of data, when available. For employees with less than three years of data available, the available scores are averaged based on the number of years available.

Since VAM is based on actual performance of students, scores cannot be calculated until all student assessment data has been finalized and received by the district. As such, final evaluation reports are not released until the fall of the following school year, once VAM scores have been finalized and added to the Instructional Leadership Practice Evaluation Score.

OVERALL EVALUATION SCORE & FINAL RATINGS

The Overall Evaluation Score (0-100 points) is a composite of:

- Instructional Leadership Practice Score (0-60 points) and
- Final VAM Score (0-40 points).

Once an Overall Evaluation Score is calculated by adding the Instructional Leadership Practice and VAM scores, the corresponding Evaluation Level is determined (Highly Effective, Effective, Needs Improvement, or Unsatisfactory). A chart detailing the score ranges for each performance level is available on the Performance Evaluation SharePoint site.

An instructional leader's performance is integral when planning for professional learning needs as well as for consideration in leadership roles and administrative opportunities. Additionally, evaluators use evaluation system data to help drive continuous improvement efforts, such as School Improvement Plans, and to develop site-based systems of support for schools.

LAWSON TALENT MANAGEMENT (LTM)

All evaluation forms are stored in Employee Space, also known as the electronic instructional portfolio, within Lawson Talent Management (LTM). Employees and evaluators have access to the data in employee's Employee Space.

Appraisal forms (evaluation forms) are stored in LTM Employee Space. LTM serves as an official digital storage location for all evaluation-related appraisal forms. Access to this data is secured via a log-in portal.

Note on Public Records Requirement: State law mandates evaluations are public record and viewable one year following the completion of the evaluation.

EVALUATION REVIEW PROCESS

If an employee believes an error was made on the Instructional/District Leadership Practice Evaluation, a review of the evaluation may be requested. To request a review, the employee shall complete the "Request for Review" form, available on the Performance Evaluation SharePoint site.

Requests will be reviewed by Human Resources, Performance Evaluation Department, to determine whether the employee has a reviewable issue or error in the evaluation. If there is an issue constituting review, the information will be forwarded to the Instructional Practice Evaluation Review Committee.

The committee will meet as needed to review all submissions. The committee may request additional information regarding the evaluation if necessary. The committee's recommendations will be submitted to the Chief Human Resources Officer.
